You should keep this number in a safe place so it isn't lost or stolen—it is for your use only. Never write your PIN on your card. This PIN is the number used to make POS (point-of-sale) transactions and to withdraw money from an ATM machine. You should memorize this number for security purposes. If you've forgotten your PIN you can re-set it by going to readyfunds.net

What if the ATM machine didn't work...should I try another one?

There are four possible reasons why the ATM did not work:

1. The machine may simply be out of cash or down for repairs.
2. The machine may not support the network logos listed on the back of your card.
3. You must select "checking" when prompted for the account type, or
4. You have insufficient funds to cover the withdrawal for cash and/or the fees associated with that transaction.

You are charged for each attempt through the ATM machine. If you are unsure of your balance, you should call the toll free number listed on the back of your card to check your balance before attempting another ATM transaction.

What if the ATM machine keeps my card?

First, check with the bank, company or person in charge of the ATM machine's operation to determine if the ATM equipment is malfunctioning. If no resolution is reached, contact the Customer Service Center toll free at 1-877-323-9363.

Does the receipt from the ATM machine and POS terminal reflect my current card balance?

Your current card balance is transmitted back to the ATM with each transaction. If the ATM has the proper software, this balance will be printed on your receipt. Point-of-sale terminals do not generally report available balances.

Can I get cash back at a POS terminal and is there a fee for doing so?

You can receive cash back, up to the limit of each merchant and there is no charge to get cash back.*

How do I return goods I purchased with my card account?

It depends upon the merchant's policy. In some cases the merchant will credit your card, and in others the merchant will refund you with cash. As with any purchase, always keep your receipt.
